Alabama Children's Policy Council
2015 Spring Regional Workshops

For six years, the Alabama Children's Policy Council has presented regional workshops to enlighten, encourage and empower members of the community on topics that face today's children and families. We have addressed issues from teen driving to suicide to human trafficking. In 2015 we will host workshops throughout the state with focus areas including the effects of alcohol and drugs on adolescents and understanding foster care.
